There was an insiditus question that was creeping into the home into business, politics, schools-into the country everywhere. It was the question so often asked and so often sadly answered. What does it matter so long as I get there? What loes it matter so long as I am sucessfular It was the devil's own question. It was ruining inbre men and more reputations and eating into the life of the country with dendliness that was not even realised. It meant everything how man got there; better ten thousand million times never get there than te as millionaire, better never get there then be a prominent man politics or a successful man in trade, if the getting there was in defiance of moral principles and straightforward conduct. Applause ;

Mr Foster urged the necessity of an oftive public spirit, and said the citizen who held shoot from political or municipal affairs under the pretext that these were uncleas. withholding the very influence that would tend to elevate public life. FARM DESTS

Why Farmers Should Take an Interest in Insect. Life.

(1) Farming has come to be a prefession, and in these days of small margins, in many cases knowledge or ignorance of mathods of checking the growth; of insect pests means success or failure. An op-to-date farmer will do everything in his power to prevent a great loss which can be checked by proper methods. This. sterial knowledge is not difficult to acquire, for the Departments of Agriculture in both the Provinces and the Dominion are only too pleased to assist the farmer who wants assistonce. Timely bulletins are distributed liberally, and the Farmers' Institutes bring specialists directly into connect with the person needing

(2) There are beneficial as well as injurious insects While the farmer may take full adventage of the liberality of the Governments, he should be familiar with both the common noxious and beneficial i 11ee's in order to obtain the last resalts of his work. He would be foo!ish indeed to destroy every insect that came in his way, for there are many valuable meets which prey upon other injurious insects. Contrary to popular belief, the number of insects which are decidedly injurious to the farmer is very small compared with the total number which is to found in any given locality

13. It is a well known fact that msects are perhaps the most important ngetit in the cross-fertilization of plants. As a rule flowers that 'are colored have un select are fertilized by insects, such as bors, wasps, Bies, moths and heetles, and many are the special contrivances by which plants secure a transfer of pollen from one plant, to another by means of in-sects. Our rlover seed crop is secured by insects, the example furnisidd Parwin with this notable itiustration of the intercelationship of plants and anigads, when he stated that the amount of wild honey is deprodest upon the humber of cars

us. Most precious are his thoughts Her Doctor Said She was in Consumption and Held Out no Hope of Recovery-Today She is Well, Strong Sand Active.

Statistics published from time to time show the number of deaths on curring throughout this country from consumption to be asgreat as the number caused by all other preventible diseases combined. It is no wonder, therefore, that the medical fraternity.

has at last awakened to the fact that the most urgent means must be taken to prevent its further spread, and to teach the public that while the disease is readily communicated from one person to another, it is not necessarily inherited, though the tendency to it may be. It is therefore, of the utmost inportance that people with weak lungs should take the greatest care of themselves to prevent consumption obtaining a hold upon them. Pure out-of-door air, lots of sunshine, wholesome food and a good tonic medicine to keep the blood rich and pure, will e anyone to resist the inroads of the disease. As a blood forming tons there is no medicine the equal of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills where freely and fairly used, will strengthen the weakest constitution, and have cured many cases of consumption when taken in its early stages. Proof of this is given in the case of Mrs. Abram Henry, of Charcase of Mrs. Abrain Henry, of Char-lottetum, P.E.I. A Galt beet sugar man tells a good story on himself. One night a few weeks ago he set out for a small place about ten miles from Calt to address a meeting, as directed by the Board of Trade. He noticed school all lit up, and, concluding that that was the place of meeting, tied up his horse and went inside The audience was just gathering, and our Galt, man was rather surprised to note the preponderance in numbers of the fair sex. However, was very pleased to see them out He was shaking hands with all around very affably, and began to feet so thoroughly at home that he ventured to be jovial. He suggested that after the best sugar n was over they turn the affair into a dance. 'Beet sugart' exclaimed one muid, in horror 'Dance!'' exclaimed twenty others, in disguss. GOVERNOR OF VICTORIA.

wealth of Australia, has already had a distinguished career, says Tho Daily Graphic. At the age of twenty he entered the Royal Engineers and served on the staff at Coopers Hill for some years. He was in Egypt in 1882, in the Soudan, in 1885, and then had a long spell of service in the War Office. He has traveled on special military duty in most of the countries in Edrope, and has filled up the interstices of his time by writing upon matters connected with his profession. Among the many subjects included in that phrase is the theory of fortifications; and Sir George Clarke's work on Fortifications: Past, Present and Future," is rightly regarded as one of the most interesting and suggestive of modern works upon this subject. His general view, however, of the defensive needs of the empire allows little place for fortifications in the sense in which the word is usually understood. Sir George Clarke is in a word a "blue water man." holds most strongly, and has insisted on every possible occasion, so far as official etiquette would permit that the British Empire can only be effectively defended upon the high seas. Again and again, whenever opportunity has offered, he has protested against the squandering of the money of the nation upon earthworks and other fixed defences. Ho be longs to that little group of distinguished sailors and soldiers who realized the value of "sea power" long before Captain Mahan made the this question of crucial importance to the empire have been more than once expressed in The Daily Graphic in the form of interviews or articles. Sir George was one of the gentlemen appointed by Mr. Brodrick to the recent commission to consider how the administration of the Wer Office could be improved. In Australia Sir G. Clarke will have an entirely different sphere of activity; but
